Monetary Reform Urged By McGeer: Make Canadians Richest People in the World

A year war, said Mr. McGeer, showed when France fell and Britain stood alone the Canadian government had declared that "no monetary consideration" was to be taken in the way of the war effort.

As a result of the government's stand, the Dominion's war budget was raised from $100,000,000 to $3,000,000,000 over a period of a few years. Canada loaned Britain $700,000,000 and placed $1,000,000,000 worth of Canadian goods at the disposal of the United Kingdom. To do this, Canada did not borrow money in Europe or in Britain.

"Is anybody going to say that out of that experience Canada has not found her financial independence?" asked Mr. McGeer. "Are we going to go crawling to some international banker for money to put our people to work after this war for a better Canada?"

SIX kayakers and a half dozen technical knockouts speak for themselves as far as the opening session of Alaskan Wing Golden Gloves boxing tournament is concerned. And more action is promised for tonight, ten bouts being listed on the second card which is billed to commence at 8 o'clock.

TORONTO, May 10.—(CP)—The other day Al Cottrell wrote a column in the Vancouver Sun describing mace racing, which has become quite a fad with servicemen stationed in Australia. The boys get a gentleman mouse or filly that has proven its speed in a match against all comers generally using a barrel for a track.

And reports of the annual frog-jumping derby south of the border prompted Vince (Winch) Tribune, Leah to wonder whether cockroach racing had been revived during the present war. The insect scampers were quite popular during the First Great War when the soldiers tried to forget some of the unsavory episodes of war by matching two stalwart cockroaches for a winner-take-all purse.

Perhaps though, say Vice, "the boys are too busy preparing for that jump across the channel or that drive on Rome. Maybe on some not-too-distant day they'll be able to make book right on the Lister Den Linden. Give me ten acers on the board on that Russian entry over there."

IRRESISTIBLE FORCE:
Noting the phenomenal success of racing this year in both attendance and betting despite many and varied difficulties, Harry (Calgary) Albright Scott opines that "an obstacle has yet to be devised which would stop a host-player from getting to the track." Your true addict is disgraced only when tearing up an unsuccessful parimutuel ticket, but "never fails to recover miraculously overnight."

INCIDENTALLY:
Right of this year's Montreal Royals had never travelled on a Pullman until they joined the International League ball club, Dick Carroll reports in the Montreal Gazette. They must be going far back in the woods for talent now.

Sandlot Fastball Teams Preparing For Big Tourney

From Jasper Place to the Highlands, from North Edmonton to the Calgary Trail all the school grounds and corner lots are busy these nights with wallops and will be fastball teams getting into shape for their own community games and with an eye to the monster tournament which is to be staged here in the Arena at the starting July 15, to determine the city championship in the midget and juvenile classes.

The midget players are teen age boys who will not have reached their 15th birthday by July 15 of this year and a juvenile is any high school boy between 15 and 18 years. Already some 40 teams have expressed their intention of entering and there are still several districts not yet heard from.

In some of the communities there will be enough material for four or six team house leagues, while in others there will possibly be only one entry in each division. In the case of the latter, games between communities should be arranged by way of competition and as a test of the strength of the local team. No team should have any trouble in arranging games with outside teams. Outlying teams like Jasper Place, Calder and North Edmonton will welcome challenges from the close-in teams at any time. If you would like to arrange games with teams in other communities just send your name, address and a phone number to G. H. Brown, 1021 10th street, telephone 2784 and a game will be arranged.

Every teen age boy who is a bona fide member of any team in the city sandlot leagues and is currently playing with the team, will automatically become a member of the "Knottle Club" and as such will receive a free pass to all of the league games of the Edmonton Senior Baseball League at Renfrew Park. In addition his pass will be good for admission to any of the games at Kingsway Park in the Fastball League on Friday nights.

A set of medals for the ultimate winners in both the midget and juvenile divisions of the Sandlot League are assured.

There will be a final organization meeting in the near future when all of the teams should be represented. You should therefore get your teams organized and ready that you are representative of this meeting, notice of which will be given later.

By Decision

NEW YORK, May 10.—(CP)—Pit Gordiano, 184, Ottawa, won a six-round decision over Sonny Wilson, 125, Detroit, in a fast boxing bout at the Broadway arena here last night.

A first round knockout was scored by Pvt. Eugene Chiostris of Ladd Field, Fairbanks, who hails from Chicago; second round kayos were marked up by Pvt. Billy Petersen, Edmonton from Billings, Mont.; and Pvt. Elmo Morales, West Virginia, all gained third round knockouts.

All bouts were scheduled in three rounds, but only seven of the 19 entered in the tournament, 17 winners entered the semi-finals for the evening. Two of the eight contestants had to box twice.

Six battlers of the Ladd Field team reached the semi-finals by winning in the first round. Both the Edmonton and Whitehorse battlers entered the second round, while the Fairbanks battler, Cpl. "Flash" Pinnola who hails from Long Island, N.Y.

The card was one of the best held in the arena this year and the best of the eliminations already set for tonight's and Thursday's bouts should be hot.

A set of medals for the ultimate winners in both the midget and juvenile divisions of the Sandlot League are assured.

Night Games in Majors Now "Owl Ball" Season Starting

By JACK HAND
CHICAGO, May 10.—(AP)—Baseball's manpower problem appears to have passed out of the acute stage as the major leagues settle down to a five-month run with pleasant prospects of tight pennant races and night baseball to bolster mid-week attendance figures.

Today, after a two-day travel interlude, they'll turn on the lights at Washington, Cincinnati and Pittsburgh and the "owl ball" season will be under way.

Draft boards still hold the balance of power in every league as players are called to the colors but major league rosters have not undergone drastic changes since the season opened. So far, nobody has had to play with less than nine men.

Players on each big league club are on leave from the armed services after passing their physical exams but they are playing until called. The stream heading toward the service is partially matched by a steady influx of war veterans who are finding their way into the game.

Tom Warren, a Brooklyn pitcher who was at Casablanca, belongs in that category as does Jack Kramer, St. Louis Browns' mound sensation who did a hitch in the Navy.

To Injure Riders

TORONTO, May 10.—(CP)—The Incorporated Canadian Racing Association will insure jockeys and exercise boys riding on affiliated Ontario tracks this season. It was announced last night by Chairman James Hefferling following a conference with officers of the Jockey's Benevolent Association of Canada.

Due to weather conditions the opening game of the football season between Walk-Hires and Army and Navy was scheduled for tonight has been postponed to Saturday.

The doubleheaders which were to have been played on Thursday and Friday also have been set over and new dates will be announced later.

OF GOOD MATERIALS

KEEP IT OILED AND THE TIRES PUMPED HARD

A C.C.M. BICYCLE is an accurately made and durably finished machine, composed of the most suitable materials throughout.

It will carry you about in your business, and from school or in private life at no expense and with but little effort.

In the three fast moving parts or bearings of a C.C.M. Bicycle—Front Hub, Coaster Brake, Sprocket Hanger—special steels are used and are heat-treated to give extra hardness and longer life to the bicycle.

Having done everything that 45 years of experience in making Bicycles has taught us, we pass on to you, the rider of a C.C.M., this beautiful piece of precise mechanism. It is then prudent for you, and will pay you in terms of years of trouble-free riding, to keep your C.C.M. Bicycle well and regularly oiled and greased, the tires pumped hard at all times.

If you need a Bicycle as essential transportation, go to your nearest C.C.M. dealer and complete a Bicycle Purchase Application Form. Although Bicycles are rationed, still larger quantities of materials are being made available to provide for essential users.

School Board Hears Protest By Delegation

A delegation of parents of children attending Westglen school appeared before the Edmonton public school board Tuesday night to request a thorough investigation of a language teacher at that school. The delegation contended that the teacher is not an efficient instructor and is incompetent in class management. W. J. A. Mustard, who acted as spokesman for the delegation, stated he represented a family who had children receiving instruction from the teacher. Lack of sympathetic understanding between the teacher and her pupils, he stated, caused pupils to become discouraged and many parents had resorted to private tutors to enable the children to pass their grades. Children who otherwise gained good marks in all school subjects failed in this teacher's class.

"BAD TEMPER" CLAIMED

Mr. Mustard also charged that in many cases, the teacher had been temperamental, and that she had caused complete lack of discipline in her classroom. He stated that from his own inquiry, he had found the teacher had excellent academic qualifications but he felt she was not capable of imparting knowledge.

Other members of the delegation addressed the board and cited personal understanding of their own children had been in one of the teacher's classes and in one case a boy was banned for several days because he raised a disturbance after the teacher told the pupils that she did not wish to be disturbed.

One member of the delegation declared that there was a teacher at that school who was a disciplinarian and was expeditiously administered and the teacher had often defied the principal of the school in the presence of the pupils.

CONFIRMS STATEMENT

Principal of the school, J. G. Nide, confirmed this statement, saying that he had been told by the teacher that she had been punished by him for an act of insubordination. He stated that the teacher's class and when he returned to the class she openly defied him, refusing the pupils entrance.

The delegation spokesman urged the board, "in the best interests of the school, to make a complete investigation of the matter" as he felt that the teacher should not be in charge of young children.

The matter was deferred by the board for discussion at a later meeting.

A second delegation also appeared before the board, composed of representatives of the Edmonton Community League, which requested the board's support and cooperation in appointing a city council with regard to obtaining additional playground space around the city.

REPORT ORDERED

It was the wish of the community league to obtain the additional playground for community playground and this would necessitate blocking off 87 acres and 32 street, the board referred the matter to the property committee, to report on full details.

Miss Jean M. Cameron, French teacher at Victoria High, applied to the board for several days leave of absence to enable her to attend the opening of a summer course in French at Trois Piliers, Que.

Miss Cameron has been awarded the scholarship from the Carnegie Corporation. In granting the request, A. E. O'Brien, chairman of the board, stated that having a teacher of the Edmonton district win this scholarship was "quite a distinction."

The monthly attendance report, submitted by R. S. Sheppard, superintendent of schools, showed a total of 14,132 enrolment for April 1944, as compared with 13,883 for April 1943, an increase of 250.

MEDICAL REPORT

In submitting the monthly medical report, Dr. G. E. Swallow, medical inspector of schools, reported that the second treatment of diphtheria inoculations in the schools had been completed. He stated that there was still a large number of scarlet fever cases prevalent in the city, which were making much additional work for the medical staff.

Upon the recommendation of the superintendent of schools, the board of the following substitutes for teachers were approved: Miss Doris Halvers, B.A.; Miss L.

Air Power Vital Part Played By Air Power

By Maj. A. P. de Seversky

In his report on naval operations since the beginning of the war, made public recently by the Japanese navy, is presented an auxiliary element in a larger picture. This applies both to naval aviation, ship-borne and land-based, and to Army aviation co-operating with the Navy. Nevertheless, the vital part played by air power becomes evident as one reads the report.

Every kind of naval fighting has been experienced by the Japanese navy. With naval air power more often than predominating. The major character of the Pacific action, he adds, has been amphibious and presently amphibious warfare is in reality tripartite, since aviation is an essential and often deciding factor.

The report underlines increasing use of land-based aircraft—two-engine fighters, bombers, and torpedo bombers—used in the Pacific. The report also mentions the use of land-based aircraft in the Pacific.

Victory Loan Passes Quotas In Rural Areas

By Maj. A. P. de Seversky

Rural Northern Alberta with purchases amounting to $4,828,250 made by 20,680 subscribers passed its minimum quota of $4,828,250 during Tuesday, and all sections are pressing on to new objectives. It was announced at loan headquarters.

Sales on Tuesday amounted to $280,000 with 1,360 persons participating to reach 102.7 per cent of the minimum quota. Rural Southern Alberta also went over its objective to reach its minimum quota of $17,000,000.

The first Victory Loan $4,828,250 subscribers had reached $4,828,250 for 70.3 per cent of the quota on the same date.

Thirteen rural units in Northern Alberta have passed their minimum quotas with nine reaching the 90 per cent mark toward their goal. Six have reached the 80 per cent milestone and only one unit of the 20 rural divisions is below the 70 per cent mark.

Grande Prairie was the first rural division to report that all its subscribers exceeded the quota set. The units of this division are Peace River, Spirit River, Grande Prairie, and Wainwright.

Within a few minutes of the receipt of the Grande Prairie achievement word was received at loan headquarters that the Vermilion-Lloydminster district had achieved a complete reaching of unit objectives. The units in this district are Grande Prairie, Vermilion, Lloydminster, and Blackfoot.

The following is a tabulation of the number of applications, subscriptions and percentage of quota achieved in the rural districts of Northern Alberta.

I Saw Today Paint Industry Plans to Meet Post-War Needs

Canada's paint industry is planning to meet the nation's post-war needs and will be ready for any housing and home rehabilitation program that may be inaugurated to provide employment in the transition period from war to peacetime economy. V. C. Wansborough, Montreal, general manager, Canadian Paint Co., Wansborough, president of the Edmonton Paint Club at the Macdonald hotel.

He is accompanied by L. C. Stephens, Winnipeg, general manager, G. F. Stephens Paint Co., A. Brodie, manager, International Laboratories, Winnipeg, and Sid Forman, president of the Winnipeg Paint Club.

He paid high tribute to the farmers of Canada whose response to the urgent need for flax production was the salvation of the paint industry in the Dominion. He said that demand for flax in the post-war period would continue strong in the paint industry. He expressed some concern about reports that the production of this vital crop would be lessened this year.

Necessities of the war have made the paint industry more than ever a branch of chemistry. It has been necessary to import raw materials from the natural oil imported from India, the Straits Settlements and Far East. The Canadian Paint Club has supplied these, Mr. Wansborough stated.

These substitutes have been so successful that they will be maintained in the post-war period, he stated. Another phase of the industry's development under the necessities of war was the rapid development of the natural resources of the Americas that were needed in the paint industry.

He said that the paint industry has been a good way to start a drive against sidewalk cyclists. After the license officials had contacted every bicycle owner on their files, and schools had brought the matter to attention of students, the police could take action against those not willing to co-operate. Many youngsters probably do not realize the danger they bring to others by riding bikes on the sidewalk.

Break and Entry Cases Reported To City Police

Two cases of breaking and entering reported to city police Tuesday, were being investigated. In City, District Heavy Snowfall Damages Trees, Electrical Wiring Descending on Edmonton and vicinity Tuesday evening, a freak snowstorm shrouded the city during the night with a four-inch blanket of snow which was still falling as residents "slushed" their way to work Wednesday morning.

Extensive damage to trees and gardens was reported from the west end of the city. In one section as many as 100 large branches were strewn over the sidewalk in a single block.

Boundaries of the storm extended from Wetaskiwin in the west to Lock, with a gentle snowfall reported at Athabasca, and from west of Edmonton to east of the city.

The street railway system proceeded with its operations without interruption from the storm. Electrical wiring felt beneath the weight of the snow, in many parts of the city. A transformer pole near the telephone building at 82nd street and 118th avenue was forced out of position, while a pole at Jasper and 160th street broke beneath the weight of the wet snow.

Trees crashed into the streets, limbs littered the sidewalks of the residential sections, and traveling about some of the thoroughfares were rendered almost impossible.

Both electric light and city engineering departments were kept busy throughout the night. Despite the severity of the storm, no traffic accidents were reported by city police, but there were reports among the bird-life in the city.

BIRDS affected, at 96th street and 102nd avenue, which had become the nesting place of a Mr. and Mrs. John, a pair of birds, apparently surprised by the fall, continued to lie there, and a fine was covered by a shovelled snow. A merchant there, almost dead.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Stepchildren Can Be Wicked Persecutors

Mother Who Marries Widower Often Undergoes Martyrdom at Hands of Little Fiends Who Should be Thoroughly Spanked

DEAR MISS DIX: Don't let anyone tell you it is possible to be happy as a stepmother. I married a widower whom I loved with all my heart. He has a daughter whom I wanted to love and to whom I wanted to be a real mother. I made every effort in the world to win her liking and to make her happy, but with no success, and it is heartbreaking and discouraging beyond all imagination to contend with conditions created by her lack of discipline. Also, it is hard to take being treated with rudeness and openly scorned, and to have my husband always side with his child against me. It has been my life for him, and life without love is not worth living.

STEPMOTHER.
Answer: The stepmother used to be the villain in old nursery tales, but the scene is shifted nowadays and it is often the cruel stepchild who persecutes the stepmother, not the vice versa. Many a good woman, with a mother heart, who marries a widower with children in the fond belief that she can win the children's affections and be helped to them, finds that she has to undergo a martyrdom at the hands of the little fiends against whom she is powerless to defend herself.

The situation is almost inevitable. Upon the mother's death the children are either left to the care of servants who let them run wild, because it is easier to do so than it is to try to discipline them and make them behave, or else they are sent to live with their mother's parents who pity them and spoil them and who implant in their minds, often without intending it, a mother's phobia.

Even when mothers find their opinions fostered and their authority upheld, when they are dealing with their adolescent children in these days when the tendency is to let the family and are a law to themselves. But mother, having been chicken-picked from the time her first baby

TEACH ADMIRATION

Dear Dorothy Dix: My husband is in the army. We have two darling little girls only one year apart. The oldest child is very sensitive and my husband has had to go away to teach her to love and to know what to tell and what not to tell her. I would very greatly appreciate if you would help me through this biggest and most important problem I have had to face as a mother.

ANSWER: I think that the best way to deal with the matter is to let her be as simply as you can, that her father has had to go away to teach her to love and to know what to tell and what not to tell her. I would very greatly appreciate if you would help me through this biggest and most important problem I have had to face as a mother.

SPEND-THRIFT
Dear Miss Dix: Would you marry a man who earns $50 a week, has a car, a house, and a lot of money so that he can borrow to help when he is in need of a desirable husband? MARTHA.

ANSWER: I should say not. If a man is born with money in his pocket, no wife can see them up. No husband can see them up. No husband can see them up. No husband can see them up.

McKenney On Bridge

By WM. E. MCKENNEY

The women's part event of the Southern tournament at Miami was held on Tuesday night. Mrs. W. E. McKenney, of the Southern tournament at Miami was held on Tuesday night.

South's opening bid of one heart was a little bit, but I rather favor opening this type of hand. When Mrs. McKenney's seven of clubs was played on the first trick, Mrs. Gross (West) made the smart play of putting on the eight, which North won to play the ten. North then led the king of clubs. Mrs. Gross captured South's king. North won the four of clubs. Her play of the eight-club on the first trick created a tenace position for her partner and Mrs. McKenney now won the two club tricks. Of course, she had to make a play of spades, which defeated the contract.

The idea that falling stars, or meteorites, are large and would do great damage if they struck the earth, is quite mistaken. All these falling bodies greatly exaggerate their size. The meteor that crashed in New Jersey some years ago was described as being the size of the sun itself, and it was no larger than a small stone. It was found to be so small it would be in the palm of your hand. Commander of British Submarine Seraph Tells of Daring Exploits Widely known as the commander of the British submarine "Seraph," which took General Mark Clark to and from North Africa for conferences with French officials, as a prelude to the invasion in the fall of 1942, Lt. Norman Limbury Auchincloss Jewell, M.B.E., D.S.C., U.S. Legion of Merit, gave a vivid account of the operation when he spoke at a Canadian Club luncheon Tuesday.

In addition to the incident with Major Clark, Lt. Jewell's submarine carried out the rescue of General Henri Giraud from France, snatching him from under the very noses of the Nazis.

SAW SIGNAL LIGHT

"We arrived about 6 o'clock in the morning and saw a light burning in a window of a certain house. This was our signal that everything was all right with the friendly French, who were to confer with Gen. Clark," he said.

"That night the party landed and kept in touch with the sub by "walkie-talkie." They were to receive a signal the next night to go in and pick the group up again, and as it got quite late, and no signal had been given, they began to get jittery. Finally a message was flashed from shore. "Come and get us as quickly and as close in as possible."

The commander explained it had become quite rough and the men ashore had quite a time launching their small boat. At one point in the proceedings he heard a shout, "Never mind your pants General, save the oars."

ATTEMPT ABANDONED

The attempt to come aboard had to be abandoned and was carried out later that same night. When General Clark finally appeared on the bridge of the submarine he was stark naked, Lt. Jewell said.

Only a few days later the Seraph was sent to the French coast to pick up Gen. Giraud. The rescue was made without mishap and the General was transferred from the sub to an airplane and flown to Africa.

The handsome young naval officer gave members of the club

Many Entertained By Club Services

Record of activities to servicemen stationed in Edmonton, provided by the United Services club of the Y.M.C.A. was given Tuesday in a report covering activities during the past 12 months.

There have been 106 dances held in the club rooms at the "Y" with 12,740 participants, and seven Sunday parties in the same rooms.

For many months the only supplies reaching beleaguered Malta were those taken in by submarines.

Our base there had been badly bombed and so we had kind of a shuttle system. We'd run into harbor, transfer our torpedoes and ammunition to another sub which would go out on patrol. We'd anchor in the harbor, submerging by day and surfacing for repairs at night.

BIT TROUGH AT TIMES

"Things were a bit rough at times," he said, "and the crews were glad to get back to sea for peace and quiet."

Lt. Jewell spoke of the part played by submarines in coastal shelling and said that all these operations point to the unity and co-operation in the services and among the United Nations military leaders.

The Kiwian Glee Club under the direction of Ed McGarvey, entertained more than 300 sailors at H.M.C.S. Nonsuch, Edmonton Naval Training station, last Friday evening. This was the last in the present concert series given by the popular entertainment troupe.

Lt. Cmdr. J. A. Dawson, commanding officer of Nonsuch, expressed the appreciation of all ed-ding evening concerts when 1,400 uniformed men attended. At the snack bar, during the year, 43,737 orders were filled, and free check-room facilities were used by 34,655 persons.

In addition, free dormitory accommodation was provided for 30 men. There were 150 R.C.N.V.R. swim instruction classes attended by 3,863 servicemen using the reading room totalled 34,219, while 17,586 used the small games room.

There were 4,025 sheets of paper and envelopes used by servicemen for letters.
